

An exciting opportunity to contribute to self regulation of the pharmaceutical industry and join the PMCPA on a fixed term contract ...

The Prescription Medicines Code of Practice Authority (PMCPA) is responsible for administering the Association of the British Pharmaceutical Industry (ABPI) Code of Practice for the Pharmaceutical Industry at arm's length from the ABPI itself. The PMCPA was established in 1993 and is now looking for someone who can help shape the next 25 years. The ABPI is the trade association representing innovative research-based biopharmaceutical companies that research, develop and manufacture prescription medicines.

The aim of the ABPI Code is to ensure that the promotion of prescription medicines and other interactions with health professionals are carried out in a responsible, ethical and professional manner. The Code also covers the provision of information to the public and relationships with patient organisations.

The role is to cover a maternity leave and is an opportunity to join the PMCPA as a Manager for a fixed term contract from December 2019/January 2020 for approximately one year. The role will include being a member of the Code of Practice Panel which adjudicates upon complaints and providing training and advice on the Code and its operation.

We are seeking an all-rounder who has a degree in a biological science and/or law and has practical experience of working with the ABPI Code or similar. You will need the ability to cope under pressure.

Send your application (CV and covering letter) to Heather Simmonds, Director PMCPA, 7th Floor, Southside, 105 Victoria Street, London, SW1E 6QT, hsimmonds@pmcpa.org.uk or telephone to find out more on 020 7747 8880. For more information about the PMCPA and this position (including a job description) visit the 'Working for us' section of our website at www.pmcpa.org.uk. Interviews will be held in October 2019.
